Are you desirous of Pleasure? What more transporting than the Favour of Heaven, a Virtuous Life, the Discovery of Truth, and the Serenity of Mind which accompanies a clear Conscience? These are Pleasures that the Great and Good have in all Ages labour'd to attain. G. Bickham fecit.

*As Diamonds rough, no Luster can impart Till their rude Forms are well improv'd by Art;
So untaught Youth we very rarely find Display the Dazling Beauties of y^e Mind, Till Art and Science are to Nature joyn'd.*

He who would be before-hand with the World must be before-hand with his Business: It is not only ill Management, but discovers a slothful Disposition, to do that in the Afternoon, which should have been done in the Morning

Diligence, as well as Thrift is necessary for attaining Riches Both these are excellently well recommended to common use in the three following

Italian Proverbs;

*Never do that by Proxy which you can do your self.
Never defer that till To-morrow th you can do To-day.
Never neglect small Matters and Expences.*
